

WASHINGTON STATE LEGISLATURE
Office of the State Actuary

EXEMPT RECRUITMENT

Legislative Actuarial Intern - Fall and Winter 2006

POSITION: The Washington Office of the State Actuary is seeking candidates for the position of Legislative Actuarial Intern for the fall and winter of 2006. This is a temporary, full-time nonpartisan at-will position that is exempt from the state civil service system. The internship would last for about 6 months, starting around October 2006 and ending around April 2006.

The position would involve the preparation of data to be used for a six-year experience study of demographic assumptions including mortality, retirement, termination, and disability; assisting with actuarial valuations for 15 state retirement plans covering 500,000 members; and assisting with the pricing of proposals related to public pensions.

OFFICE: The Office of the State Actuary (OSA) has 12 employees including the State Actuary, actuarial staff, research analysts, and administrative staff. The actuarial staff includes the State Actuary, Senior Pension Actuary and three Actuarial Assistants. The OSA provides actuarial assistance to the Washington State Legislature. More information about the office is available at <http://osa.leg.wa.gov>.

LOCATION: The office is located in Olympia, Washington. Olympia is located at the tip of Puget Sound, with the Olympic Mountains rising across the water in the distance, about 60 miles south of Seattle.

DESIRABLE QUALIFICATIONS: The ideal candidate will have an undergraduate degree from an accredited college or university in a field such as actuarial science, mathematics, economics, or finance; will have completed at least one actuarial exam; should be proficient at using Excel spreadsheets; should be familiar with word processing programs; will have effective interpersonal communication skills; will be comfortable working independently as well as in a team environment; will be legally authorized to work in the United States; and will be available to start in October 2006.
